Matched Giving for Pensioners

Royal Mail and its people have a long and proud tradition of supporting registered charities and good causes all around the UK. Last year our people raised more than £3 million for hundreds of charities, with Royal Mail contributing £7.6 million to charities, good causes and schemes for disadvantaged groups.

Royal Mail is now introducing a new matched giving scheme for its retired pensioners, to help our people – past and present – raise even more for those in need.

What's on offer?

Royal Mail retired pensioners can now claim up to £50 per person each year in matched giving, up to a total limit of £100,000 each year, for funds for any UK registered charity or registered good cause.

How does it work?

Once your fundraising event is complete and you have collected and banked the money you have raised, all you need to do is:

1. Complete the attached application form with your details and those of the registered UK charity or good cause you have raised money for
2. Collect evidence of the money you have raised. See the back of the application form for more details
3. Post your completed application form and supporting evidence to Charities Trust at the return address on the back of the form.

Charities Trust, on behalf of Royal Mail, will check your details and then make a donation to your chosen charity or good cause on your behalf. Charities Trust will send you a letter to advise you once the donation has been made.
